

My First Day at College

College life is the most fascinating and unique experience a student can have. It is the most memorable time after matric. Students want to try new things during their time in college. They learn new stuff that they were previously unaware of. The first day at college is one that we will never forget in our life. The attractiveness and beauty of college life cannot be explained in words. Every moment spent in college is always worth remembering. It is the most valuable time of anyone's life.

My first day at college is a memorable time of my life. I completed my matriculation examination and got admission to College. My siblings and family members had shared many adventures about college life. I was happy with excitement, inner joy, and high expectations for a bright future. College life, I believed, would be full of delights and adventures.

I woke up early in the morning on the first day of college since I was quite excited about the new experience. I felt as if I would step into another universe. For me, it was an entirely new place. The college had a beautiful structure, beautiful playgrounds and full of greenery.

When I arrived at the college, some of the students were playing basketball, badminton and football. One of my senior professors asked everyone to go to the Main Hall of the college for the Principal's moral lecture. The Principal told students not to indulge in immoral activities and other stuff that hurt others. He shared some of his experiences from college life. He gave us few important educational tips. In the end, he advised us to work hard and get success in every field of life.

I have decided on that day to study with full devotion and work hard which can lead me to success in my career life. As Satya Nani says:

"A little progress each day adds up to big results."
